Department Overview

The Department of Developmental Education is housed in the Community and Technical College. The department does not offer any degrees. The department serves to help underprepared students get ready for the rigors of obtaining an academic degree in higher education and feeds into all degree programs. The department includes faculty from both the CTC in Fairbanks and the College of Indigenous Studies, which has campuses located throughout Alaska. These include Bristol Bay, Chukchi, Interior Alaska, Kuskokwim and Northwest Campuses.

We offer courses in three major areas of study to help students along their path to higher education:

- Foundational Level Mathematics - MATH F105N and below
- Foundational Level Writing - WRTG F111X "plus" (which is a corequisite model) and WRTG F110 and below
- Study Skills and College Skills - Developmental Studies (DEVS)(<https://catalog.uaf.edu/courses/devs/>) courses at all levels

Mission Statement

To meet students where they are and give them the keys for opening the doors to wherever they want to go.

Department Values

- Be a welcoming place to all students, regardless of background.
 - Allow students to explore how education can help them improve their lives and those of their families and communities.
 - Instill the belief that every student can achieve their academic goals.
 - Build student confidence in their abilities and identity.
