The University of Alaska does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, national origin, citizenship, age, sex, physical or mental disability, status as a protected veteran, marital status, changes in marital status, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions, parenthood, sexual orientation, gender identity, political affiliation or belief, genetic information, or other legally protected status.

When implementing this commitment, the university is guided by Title VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Civil Rights Act of 1991; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972; Executive Order 11246, and Executive Order 11375, as amended; Equal Pay Act of 1963; Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 and Age Discrimination Act of 1975; Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974; Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990; the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act of 2008; Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008; Pregnancy Discrimination Act; Immigration Reform & Control Act; Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and other federal laws or Alaska Statutes which guarantee equal opportunity to individuals and protected classes within our society.

The university's commitment to nondiscrimination, including against sex discrimination, applies to students, employees and applicants for admission and employment.

Therefore, this policy affects employment policies and actions, as well as the delivery of educational services at all levels and facilities of the university. Further, the university's objective of ensuring equal opportunity will be met by taking affirmative action: i.e., making intensified, goal-oriented efforts to substantially increase the participation of groups where their representation is less than proportionate to their availability; providing reasonable accommodations to employees and students with disabilities; and ensuring that employment opportunities are widely disseminated to agencies and organizations that serve underrepresented protected classes.

UA's grievance procedures and grievance process under Title IX, including how to report or file a formal complaint of sex discrimination, how to report or file a formal complaint of sexual harassment, and how UA will respond are located in UA Board of Regents' Policy and Regulation Chapter 01.04 (https://www.alaska.edu/bor/policy-regulations/chapter-01-04-titleix.php). This chapter defines prohibited behavior and details the administrative grievance procedures and grievance process for inquiries, investigations, hearings and appeals that apply when prohibited behavior is alleged to have occurred.

Clery Statement
At the University of Alaska Fairbanks, the safety, security and well-being of our students, faculty, staff and visitors are a top priority. To help you make an informed decision and comply with the Clery Act, we publish an Annual Security and Fire Safety Report (https://uaf.edu/csrr/safety-prevention/security-fire.php). This report contains information from the three previous calendar years concerning reported offenses, arrests, crimes and disciplinary referrals that occurred on campus; in specific off-campus buildings owned or controlled by the university; and on public property within or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus. The report also includes institutional policies concerning campus security, alcohol and other drug use, crime prevention strategies, and how to report crimes, sexual assault and other related matters.

Catalog Disclaimer
This catalog and its contents shall not be construed as a contract between the University of Alaska Fairbanks and prospective or enrolled students. The catalog is merely a vehicle of information, including university policies, regulations, rules and procedures. Although every effort is made to ensure its correctness, regulations of the university and its program requirements change from time to time during the period any student is attending the University of Alaska Fairbanks; to the extent there is a conflict between this catalog and university policies, regulations, rules or procedures, the university policies, regulations, rules and procedures will control.

Accordingly, if regulations or program requirements of the university in any way conflict with information contained in this catalog, the current regulations and program requirements govern. The university reserves the right to initiate changes in any of its regulations or program requirements affecting the operation of the university and its program requirements; such changes shall become effective upon whatever time periods are required by applicable statutes, university regulations or program requirements.
