The Alaska Native Language Center was established by state legislation in 1972 to document and preserve the 20 Indian, Aleut and Eskimo languages in Alaska. It is the major center in the United States for the study of Eskimo and northern Athabascan languages. ANLC publishes its findings in dictionaries, grammars, story collections and research papers. The Alaska Native Language Archive houses a valuable collection of manuscript materials in and on Alaska Native languages, including word lists and documentation dating to the late 1700s. The archive is available to scholars and students and is housed at the Rasmuson Library.

As part of the College of Liberal Arts, ANLC’s teaching program includes a B.A. in Yup’ik or Inupiaq Eskimo, an A.A.S. degree or certificate in Native language education, and special classes in language literacy. A B.A. in Yup’ik language and culture teaches major courses entirely in the Yup’ik language.
