

Technology on Campus

Nanook Technology Services, also known as NookTech, is UAF's IT unit and is located in the Bunnell Building on the Troth Yeddha' Campus. Students, faculty and staff can get free help with laptops, devices, accounts, software, and a wide range of other technology needs at the walk-up service desk in the Nook, located in Room 319. The full NTS service catalog—covering accounts and access, communication and collaboration tools, educational technology, information security, network connectivity, and technology support—is available at the NTS website (<https://www.uaf.edu/nooktech/services/>).

Internet Access, Computing Labs and Smart Classrooms

Wireless internet coverage extends across all Troth Yeddha' Campus buildings, including residence halls. Walk-up computers are accessible at the Rasmuson Library. For collaborative work, students can utilize The Nook, located in 319 Bunnell Building. The space offers virtual computer stations and ample collaborative seating. It also provides convenient access to power outlets, wired and wireless network connectivity, mobile printing, and collaboration stations for sharing content on larger displays.

Additionally, collaborative commons are available on the 2nd and 3rd floors of the Usibelli Building and the 3rd floor of the Gruening Building. The Student Success Center, on the 6th floor of Rasmuson Library, features two smart classrooms, collaboration spaces, along with a writing lab and a math lab.

Across the Troth Yeddha' Campus, more than 200 smart learning spaces are equipped with various instructional technologies, including web conferencing, computers, digital projectors, document cameras, digital monitors and lecture capture capabilities. These classrooms support a modern, adaptable learning environment accommodating various teaching methods, from traditional face-to-face instruction to online and hybrid formats. Rural campuses like Chukchi, Northwest, Kuskokwim and Bristol Bay have smart classrooms offering similar functionality designed for distance learning.
