Concentrations

General

The general concentration provides a lot of flexibility for students to explore the field of psychology and design their own programs.

This option is intended for students who have a general interest in psychology, desire maximum flexibility, or transfer into the degree program with a significant number of credits from other institutions.

| General Concentration Requirements | Credits |
|---|-----------|
| Complete the following: | |
| Department-approved PSY elective courses ³ | 24 |
| Total Credits | 24 |

³ Up to 6 credits (faculty-approved) from other programs may be used.

Applied Professional

The applied professional concentration provides opportunities for students to build professional skills and competencies for a variety of workplaces. The course choices reflect the department's focus on health and wellness. They are applicable to both health-oriented and business settings.

This option is intended for students who expect to enter the job market soon after graduation.

For a UAF bachelor's degree, a student must earn at least 120 credits, including transfer credits, at the F100 level or above.
