Program Learning Outcomes

Program learning outcomes are measurable statements that describe knowledge or skills achieved by students upon completion of the program.

Students graduating with this program will be able to demonstrate:

- · Train students to excel in today's ever-changing media environment
- · Develop journalists specialized in the intricacies of science and environmental reporting
- · Combine students' critical thinking, creativity, and practical skills to produce multimedia content for online, broadcast, and print news formats

&lt;sup>2</sup> Each course may satisfy only one requirement.
